Public Pension Coordinator and Consulting Actuary

Cheiron, Inc.

McLean, Virginia

Elizabeth Wiley is a consulting actuary for Cheiron, Inc. with over twelve years of actuarial experience, primarily specializing in public pension plans. She began her career in Texas, working exclusively on public pension plans with a significant emphasis on local municipality plans for firefighters and police officers. She moved to Cheiron and expanded her focus to include non-public safety plans and statewide systems. Wiley's experience includes actuarial valuations for both public and multiemployer plans, preparing and reviewing GASB disclosures, and providing analysis and client support regarding legislation. She also has experience designing, drafting, and implementing plan provisions that include studies of impact and costs, including collaboration with legal counsel and administrative staff. Recent projects include analysis of options and development of possible new plans for a number of clients and extensive work performing actuarial audits and assisting state auditors and legislative committees. Wiley holds the EA, FCA, FSA, and MAAA designations. She completed a bachelor of arts degree in economics and psychology from Austin College and a master of arts degree in actuarial science from the University of Texas.
